Base-Ball.

This afternoon at 5 o'clock the Virginia Base-Ball Club, of this city, and the South-warks, of Philadelphia, will play the first of two games to take place between these clubs. The Southwarks have the reputation of being fine players and interesting games may be expected. The grand stand having been completed and other necessary im-provements made for the comfort of visi-tors, the Virginia Base-Ball Company can beast of grounds that will compare favorably with any in the country.

An interesting match-game of base-ball was played last Saturday evening by the Carrington Club, of Sidney, and Starlight Club, of Union Hill. The game was witnessed by about four hundred people. There was some good playing on both sides. The result was a victory for the Carringtons by a score of 15 to 5.

CHURCH-HILL BRANCH.—Mr. Alfred J. Gary, well-known in this city and Manchester, has been elected secretary and manager of this Association vice W. H. Ridgway, resigned to take work North. Mr. Gary took charge of the Association on Monday morning, and will continue the work in all its branches. The regular hours of opening will be from 4 o'clock to 10 o'clock P. M. The Association will endeavor to prove itself attractive and useful, and under the management of Mr. Gary will no doubt become deservedly popular. The public are invited to attend.

Acquitted.—In the Hustings Court yesterday the case of M. Kelly, junk-dealer, charged with receiving stolen property—railroad brasses alleged to have been shipped to him from Chiton Forge—was tried. It was submitted upon the evidence of the Commonwealth, and the jury, without leaving their seats, brought in a verdict of not guilty"; whereupon the accused was ACCIDENT.—Sunday morning as Mr. R. A. Gary and Rev. Percy G. Elsom were driving out, the buggy ran over an embankment between the residence of Mr. T. A. Gilmer and the Fulton Baptist church. The buggy was overturned and occupants thrown out. Mr. Gary received a flesh wound on the head, which bled profusely. Mr. Elsom escaped unburt. It was a narrow escape from serious accident.

A CHANCE FOR HOSPITALITY.-THE delegates from the couth to the Cotton Convention to be in session for some days at Old Point will pass though the city to-day. Many of them are old friends and customers of Richmond, and it is suggested that the Commercial Club or our merchants generally should arrange to have them stop in Richmond on their way back.

Buriod Treasure.

A NORWALK LEGEND CONCERNING BARRELS OF | bled with kidney- or fiver-disease. MONEY. A Norwalk telegram s.ys: Directly across the sound from how on a clear day may be seen the gable 1 100f of a large weather-beaten house bailt upon the bluff on Lloyd's Neck. About the middle of the seventeenth century Henry Lloyd was a small farmer on the Neck until one morning, after a terrific northeastern storm, his workmen reported to him that a large por-tion of the bluff had been washed out during the night and several heavy, mysterious-looking casks were exposed.

Where the casks came from and what they contained was never known to any one except old Lloyd, who had them car-ried to his house and buried in his cellar. The supposition is, however, that they contained treasure of some kind, as immediately after the finding of the casks the prescut large mansion was built, the whole neck of land was bought, and many slaves were brought from the South.
When the Revolutionary war broke out, and about the time that the British occupied Drummond Hill, now a portion of Norwalk, Henry Lloyd had his slaves bury in an old summer-house two lorge barreis, so heavy that it required six men to lift them, and drawing his pistol shot three of his slaves, whom he caused to be interred on top of them.

The summer-house has been to lift the man to be considered as the control of them.

The summer-house has been to lift them to the caused to be interred on top of them.

The summer-house has long since been destroyed and its location lost. The old mansion still stands uninhabited, an object of terror and awe to the few people who visit the neck. Several parties have started to dig for the supposed buried treasure, but have invariably refused to continue work because of the wonderful supernatu-ral sights and sounds which disturbed their labors.

Another prospecting party is being formed to continue the search as soon as the consent of the present owner of the land shall be obtained.

A Dry Brain.

SAN FRANCISCO BOOLEAS.

[San Francisco Chronicle.]

The autopsy on the body of Robert Hart, the one-legged notion-dealer, who died on the evening of the 4th, after being struck by Thomas Fogarty, a Pacific-Street saloon-keeper, brought to light a most interesting and for some time puzzling study in anatomatic progressity. The Richmond Election Cases.

This morning at 11 o'clock the United States Circuit Court meets. The trial of the case of Commissioner of the Revenue R. B. Munford and his deputies, charged with violation of the United States election law, is set for to-day.

United States District Attorney Waddill is to be assisted in the prosecution of these cases by Mr. John S. Wise. The number of witnesses is large. The jury drawn to reached that the mystery was solved. When the seat of knowledge was reached it was discovered that there was not a par-ticle of blood about the brain, and that it had been literally paralyzed by the descr-tion of the fluids. The fatality is techni-cally known as anæmia, or privation of cally known as anamin, or privation of blood in the capillary vessels. The brain, Dr. Levingston explained to a Uhronicle reporter, is nourished by the oxygen in the corpuseles of the blood. A rush or descrition of blood from the head consequently leaves insufficient nutrition for the brain to carry on its functions and a paralysis of the heart occurs. This will cause death in from three and a ball to five minutes. Fainting fits and a half to five minutes. Fainting fit are a form of anæmia, but seldom of suffi-cient severity to result fatally. In Hart's cient severity to result fatally. In Hart's case, the disease, if such it can be termed, was not due to force or violence, but to either emotion or the shock of Fogarty's sudden attack. Fright may have to either emotion or the shock of Fogarty's sudden attack. Fright may have produced it, but from the prowess attributed to the deceased by his friends it is more likely that the emotion was one of rage. Although possessing but one leg. Hart was powerfully built, and at a game of fisticuffs was a match for any two ordinary men along the water-front, provided that he could secure a prop for his back in order that he might not be toppled from his single understanding. He scarcely his single understanding. He scarcely knew what fear was, so self-reliant was he, so that the responsibility of his demise rests with the shock or with his violent exhibition of impotent rage at being literally "knocked out" by the suddenness of Fogarty's blow.

Carey Living in Newgate. [Philadelphia Press.]

It is said that James Carey is at present living in Newgate jail under Government living in Newgate jail under Government protection. It is certain that Farrell, another of the Phœnix-Park informers, is living in that jail under protection. He got £1,000 from the Government for his services. He came to London, he thought, in perfect disguise and went for a time ungravidat. He scent found that he was being the control of the contr guarded. He soon found that he was being tracked by Invincibles and became so alarmed that after two days of liberty in London he appealed to the police for protection, stating that he was being shadowed by the avengers of Fenian lodges. The police sent him to New-gate, where he will stay until some argate, where he was all the state of the country by stealth. James Carey claims from the Government £5,000 as his share of the award to the informers. He of the country by stealth. James Carey claims from the Government £5,000 as his share of the award to the informers. He claims the right to a written pardon and the right to constant Government protection wherever he may choose to reside. They took high rank from the first and maintained it, and are more called for than all others combined. So long as they keep up their others combined. So long as they keep up their combined. tion wherever he may choose to reside. The Government disputes Carey's claims, says he is entitled to but a small reward and to no pardon, and further losists that if he desires constant Government protection he can get it by taking work in a convict prison.

Carey is no doubt getting crazy from constant terror. His mental state now al-ternates between his of despondency and tits of frenzied bravado.

The poor victim of Blood-Disease is drugged with Mercury to core the malady, and then dosed with Iedides to cure him of the Mercurial Poisoning; but instead of any relief, the first breaks down his general health and makes him a cripple, and the other roins his digestive organs. To those afflicted in this way Swift's Specific is the greatest boon on earth, and is worth more than its weight in gold. It antidotes this Mercurial Poison, tones up the system, and this Mercurial Poison, tones up the system, and brings the sufferer back to health and happiness.
